“PROFESSIONAL TESTIMONIAL FOR EXPERT ADVICE”

We have interacted with Sheth Gitanj on matters involving technology and data during April 2025.

His computer science background was evident in the way he approached information and analytical problems. He was comfortable thinking about data structures, relationships, processes and how information could support better decisions.

At the same time, he consistently brought the discussion back to the underlying business objective.

This combination of technical understanding and business-oriented analytical thinking is one of his key strengths.

We recommend him for his capabilities as a expert.
